

Nino Chikovani

Information design, visualization & branding

About me

I am a Creative Content Producer based in Tbilisi, Georgia. I specialize in Digital Marketing, Graphic Design and Data Visualization. I am passionate about visual cognition and interactive, data-driven visuals and installations. I love research and collaborations. The synthesis of technology, public communication and design systems inspires me and allows me to translate computer languages into eclectic visualizations.

I'm always gravitating towards socially conscious topics, advancing the conversations about gender equity, global warming and food production. I believe that creativity is a food for identity and growth. I am also an independent artist, having sold almost 700 designs in 15 different countries.
